

Design

I chose for my design project to build the fortress of solitude as seen in the Superman movies.

My final design is based on the fortress seen in Superman II.

I chose this variation of the Superman's fortress because I felt it would translate well into a small scale replica. This variation of the fortress is very symmetrical and I think would look aesthetically pleasing with the snow covered background.

I ultimately chose the fortress of solitude over my other design ideas (Avengers' tower, Pride rock) because I felt if I wanted produce a project that would stand out the fortress of solitude would be the best choice of the three. I chose the Superman II design because it is simple yet elegant in appearance and I already have the materials that would be required to create it.
